

i.studio 2009 – the first step in your digital career

If you're dead set on a career in digital – from web development and programming to design, online marketing and beyond, then now is the time to enter the i.studio.

Northwest Vision and Media is partnering with some of the region's very best digital companies to offer twelve 6-month, full time, paid placements. Successful candidates will also benefit from one-to-one mentoring, digital industry masterclasses and more.

The placement roles will include trainee opportunities in:

Web Development - Web Design – Project Co-ordination – Digital Marketing and this list will expand as more employers become involved.

Placements will commence in September 2009 with the selection process starting now.

If you're:

- passionate about a career in digital
- resident in the Northwest of England
- not in full time education
- have less than 12 months' experience in the industry

Then email i.studio@visionandmedia.co.uk with your CV and contact details to be notified of future opportunities. Please note this is a training and development opportunity and not a job – you must satisfy the minimum criteria laid out above for your application to be considered.

This activity is funded by the Digital and Media Skills Programme, delivered by Northwest Vision and Media in partnership with Skillset, and supported by the North West Development Agency.
